

Constellation Announces New Contract Award for Amaralina Star

Luxembourg, February 11, 2019 — Constellation Oil Services Holding S.A. ("Constellation" or the "Company") announced today that Amaralina Star, one of the Company's ultra-deepwater drillships, has been awarded a contract with Total E&P do Brasil Ltda. ("Total"), a subsidiary of Total S.A., for one well with an option for a second one. The contract has an estimated maximum duration of 140 days. The work will be performed in the Lapa field, located offshore of Brazil, and operations under the contract are expected to commence by mid-February 2019.

"Constellation has diligently worked to develop business opportunities with new clients, both in Brazil and internationally. The award of this contract with Total, one of the major oil and gas exploration and production companies in the world, represents another important milestone in the Company's strategic plan of diversifying its client base and once again demonstrates Constellation's high level of operational expertise," said Mr. Leduvy Gouvea, CEO of Constellation.

Amaralina Star is an ultra-deepwater DP drillship constructed at Samsung Heavy Industries' shipyard in South Korea. Amaralina Star is a latest-generation drillship capable of drilling in water depths of up to 10,000 feet and has a drilling depth capacity of up to 40,000 feet.
